No loan can exceed half the value of the property mortgaged.

The Mortgagor shall bind himself to pay an annual sum so long as the mortgage lasts, said sum to represent the interest on the sum lent the amortization fund and commission to the Bank. This yearly sum shall be paid quarterly or half-yearly.

Applications for mortgages must be made in writing, specifying the property offered, accompanied by the title deed, the receipts of the Contribucion Directa tax, and setting forth that the property is free from all incumbrance, or if not the incumbrance that exists thereon, and which is to be paid off by the mortgage. The Secretary of the bank will supply applicants with the forms necessary as also the tables for amortization.

Quarterly mortgagers shall pay from 8th to 15th of each January, April, July and October, and half yearly mortgagors shall pay between the 8th and 15th of each January and July.

The Iron exists in the form of a protosalt, one fluid ounce of the Gin containing 3-10ths of a grain of Protoxide of Iron. The Ferruginous Gin may therefore take its place amongst chalybeate preparations, and be employed with advantage where the administration of a tonic alcoholic stimulant is indicated.

LIFE'S VALUE DOUBLED.—With a disordered stomach, physical and mental enjoyment are alike impossible. Every other organ sympathises with the great feeder of the system, and the mind becomes gloomy, irritable, and enfeebled. No change for the better is possible until the interrupted functions of digestion have been restored and regulated, and Bristol's Sugar-coated Pills, acting directly upon the stomach, the bowels, and the liver, arrest their morbid action and reinfuse into them the vigor of which disease has deprived them. Purgation and invigoration go on simultaneously, the appetite improves, the spirits brighten, and life, which is literally a burden to the dyspeptic, becomes once more enjoyable. The sugar-coating prevents the possibility of contact between the palate and the substance of the pills, and makes them agreeable to take. cj—a 27

THE BRITISH HOSPITAL.

The incisive ability of Messrs. Barclay and Jordan, the compilers of the Hospital report before us, is evidenced in each line of this well written paper. The document reveals a master hand, doubtless as efficient in the management of this familiar institution as in the penning of its perennial memoirs. The report as a report could not be more complete, answering every enquiry which its reading suggests, and testing by the mellowed light of a difficult 'interregnum' all previous hospital theories. It carries us through the various fields of hospital investigation, where so many predecessors lost their way, and brings us to the finis of a long cycle of hospital events culminating in eleemosynary success.

We offer no synopsis of this excellent compendium, feeling that it would be more a tax than an aid for the local British mind; but the reading of this report teaches a species of hospital revival, where men disguised as merchants, and brokers, and bankers, have thrown themselves into the breach, and in the full flush of charitable zeal have carried into the board room those qualities which in the more selfish walks of life have led them to eminent prosperity. There is an honest, straightforwardness in this paper free from that hospital fanaticism which saturated the devotion that so often palled us; and one closes this pamphlet perfect in the condition of the institution, and happy that no violent emergency calls for the martyrdom of the committee men, or the laying down of their lives to rescue the institution from—annihilation. We do not wish to be severe, but the simple annals of last year's hospital management awakens us to a belief that many of our friends who toiled so nobly for the cause in former years, have, when judged by purely hospital laws, yielded to a spirit of self sacrifice too long misunderstood. It is a relief to turn from the bye gone scenes of hospital animosity to the pleasant harmonious situation now before us, and let the dead past bury its dead.

The British hospital has suffered from what may be termed retardation, and much of its utility has been clipped either through the meagreness of public support or an undue economy on the part of the managers. Happily the funds at the disposal of the institution are now sufficient for every purpose, and measures are being taken both to amplify its accommodations and extend its usefulness. We are with the managers in their project of removal it for no other cause than to rescue the British Hospital from a repetition of the odium which in the last epidemic it so deservedly incurred. The magnificence of the London charity to this institution creates a trust which must be discharged; situated where the hospital is at present, then it may on a revisitation of the epidemic be placed under the same municipal interdictory; but the British public of Buenos Ayres will never consent to a repetition of such inhospitable hospital mismanagement; not all the fiats of the Municipality will exculpate the board. 'Tis well therefore to adopt timely measures, and whatever may be the operation of the two great principles that divide the members, it is at least to be hoped that there is charitable goodness in both; the Red Cross—the banner for all.

PARIS LETTER.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

March 25.

Sudden and sharp frosts alternate with showers of melted snow, and the gardeners as usual lament that their peach, cherry trees &c. in blossom are destroyed, that such fruit will be a rarity this season, which some say never turns out to be so. By burning tar in the vineyards, the vines are 'oft in the stilly night' protected by artificial clouds of smoke from frost; why not gardeners try it on for fruit trees, or debtors to become invisible to creditors, or old people to keep off rheumatic attacks? Baron Rothschild is endeavoring to found a colony of rooks, in the few tall trees in his garden which looks on rue Lafayette; he deserves to amuse himself after his labor in arranging all about the five milliards for France. Some years ago he attempted to stock the environs of Paris with cuckoos; and he is known to be an amateur in the rearing of barn door fowl. He has thus claims to be elected honorary president of an Ornithological Society.

We have arrived at the half-way house in Lent, not much fatigued with the severities of the way; but the other moiety of the journey will be more trying for the pilgrims' progress. Fortunately an enormous sturgeon, over three yards long, has arrived in the central market; curiosity in the monster has diminished, since no person was found inside him, and that his stomach failed to be an old curiosity shop. The Gastronomic Exhibition will open in a few days, the Jurors are all celebrated for their 'unfounded stomachs'; owing to the season only heretics can taste the international good things. Mr. Thiers was invited to come and take pot-luck, but his lady has exercised that veto which all wives are invested with, in presence of probable sudden death for their husbands. There is an old proverb current in this country, that an Englishman will eat twice as much as a Frenchman, the latter twice as much as a Spaniard, and the Spaniard twice as much as an Arab; the gastronomic jury is expected to equal the total of these performances.

The Jardin d'Acclimatation has been testing the dynamic force of its tenants; the two elephants, Romeo and Juliet, objected to be yoked to an omnibus, and expressed their indignation in quite an imperial style. However, two extra bushels of carrots appeased them. A few years ago an Italian exhibited a coach drawn by four fleas; it would be interesting to know the comparative draught-power in these two cases. In the same Jardin, a monkey has presented the directors with a little stranger, and all Paris flocks to see how mamma nurses baby—both doing well—in presence of a score of jabbering, grinning relatives, anxious to relieve her of the charge.

People are really becoming very uneasy at the discovery of mutilated bodies, next to daily dragged out of the Seine, as well as the audacity of both daylight and midnight robberies. The state of Siege ought to be raised to enable citizens to carry arms for self-protection, this privilege being only accorded to persons whose lives have been menaced. The peculiar feature of the attacks at present is, first a stab in the back and quite enough for many. These assaults generally take place on the exterior boulevards, and the streets branching from them, and which are little, if at all lighted for economy's sake. Why not compel householders to display a lighted candle in each ground floor window, as was the practice in Paris during the fifteenth century?

The trial of Manó, the letter carrier at Bordeaux, for the murder of his wife, two little girls, mother and father-in-law, has given rise to some controversy. It was the prisoner's own son, a child of seven years of age, that led to the father's conviction, and sentence to hard labor for next to life. Once, the lad denied all he had previously said, but on two occasions subsequently, in open court he, confronted with his father, never deviated. A soldier and a child are said to be the most difficult of witnesses to trip up. What a child!—who feigns to be asleep, as the victims are despatched; holds his tongue for weeks after the tragedy, and occupies his leisure moments to sharpen a knife to kill his father who has slain his mother; it is objected that such testimony ought not to be received, that it makes a parricide of the infant &c. The whole matter shows that there are no children now adays.

The apothecaries are at last adopting the sensible practice of adding a second label on bottles containing poison, setting forth the antidote to be taken and how, in case of accident. It appears the tinkers are criminally responsible for much death in the pot; in addition to their usual manner of stopping one hole and making a second, they varnish the utensil with a composition wherein lead predominates, and the 'soft solder,' instead of being harmless, as one ordinarily receives it, is poisonous. The bakers, too, since the siege, are in the habit of dusting the basket, where each loaf is left to rise before going into the oven, with sawdust instead of flour, so that the crust is strengthened by a layer of wood—veneered, in fact. Between tinkers and bakers, an inhabitants of Paris, must swallow more than his life-measure of dirt—a peck.

Madame Judic, the famous 'prima donna' in comic opera, although having made her fortune, occupies herself daily with her other worldly calling—millinery. Her nursery not only accommodates her two babies, but she has also two beds for 'two dogs'—that follow her to the theatre. Mont-Sully of the Theatre-Frangais is a money changer by day, and a famous actor in the evening.

Cabby on being charged with making a 'grand détour' in his route, explained he did so to avoid certain streets where he had unsettled accounts. Bob Sanger had a similar weakness.

QUARANTINE EXPERIENCES.

Dear STANDARD,

You ask me to tell you how I got on in Quarantine. You shall judge for yourself. We were landed by a small steamer from the N—; we left the ship at about mid-day, arriving at a place called Ensenada at about 9 p.m., the distance being under twenty miles. Most of the passengers landed that evening, but some stayed on board with the luggage, without anything to eat. We were landed after a good deal of official sparring between the Doctor at Ensenada and the captain of a guard boat, of whom more anon. About 9 a.m next morning our luggage, the first edition, was landed from the whale boat that took us ashore, and carried up by some of the dirtiest soldiers I have ever seen, to the quarantine ground where we were to spend the next fifteen days of our existence. The place itself has been an old Spanish fort. The buildings consisted of one long room, divided by folding-doors at each end, with three rooms, one large and two small. At one end of this building the medical man, Dr. Ramos, resided; he was the only good thing seen in quarantine. At the other end some of our passengers took up their abode. In the middle room there were arranged, I think, eighteen truckle-beds at distances of about two feet apart, six at one end, the rest at the other. They were supplied with new, unbleached, unwashed, brown Holland sheets, two blankets, and a coverall No one, I believe, was plucky enough for the fifteen days to get inside his bed. In the middle of the room was a table, where all except second class passengers fed, ladies as well. There was a splendid bill of fare put up on the door—but when we tried to eat, we found it impossible to do so; the meat was so hard that no knives belonging to the establishment were able to cut it, and it was not an unusual thing to see one of the waiters picking his teeth a short time before dinner with one of the forks ('vrai').

Anything more disgusting than the food, the drink, and the filth of Ensenada it has, and, I hope, never will be my lot to see. It would put to shame any of the dens that the Globe described, before we parted.

We were guarded by a company of the 5th of the Line. These were, I suppose, placed to prevent any of us going beyond the bounds. They used very often go themselves to the 'pulperia' or how did they get drunk? They were constantly mixing with us.

I forgot to mention that opposite one building there were several smaller buildings, two of wood and two of brick. One of the latter was the kitchen, officers' quarters, and store-room; the other was occupied by the ladies of our party. I cannot speak too highly of the example set us by the ladies: we heard no grumbling whatever; they must, however, have suffered considerably, as we could see by the mosquito-bites on their faces.

Talking about mosquitoes, who were the least 'venenosos' vermin we had to contend against, one morning it was suggested that we should have a general hunt for animals. We had capital sport, and killed in a short time two centipedes, one tarantula, 'benchucas,' a kind of hog, dozens of fleas and spiders, &c. &c.

Dr. Ramos very kindly had given permission to the chief engineer of the tug that had brought us from N—leave to come and see us and dine. Well, one day he comes up, dines, and returns on board his craft at night. He undresses and turns in. He was just going to sleep when a boat from the guard-ship, commanded (Oh! Englishmen) by an Englishman, makes him get up 'undressed', puts him in his dingy, tows him off to the guard-ship and keeps him under the stern, all night, a very cold night, it rained in the morning. When I asked my friend how it was he had not complained, he said he did not like to say anything as he was not sure what the officials might do to his employers. Dr. Ramos having before this written to the captain stating that he was responsible for this gentleman coming ashore.

I could go on writing for days about Ensenada, but you will see the account some day, so I will finish. We got out of it the 14th day because owing to the heavy rains and mud right up river it overflowed its banks and flooded us out. It was a most ridiculous sight to see the gentlemen wading on their knees in the water carrying the luggage up to the port, and others making a car out of a water cask to convey the ladies across from their side to breakfast. The walls of the whole building were covered with ants, quite black, that had been driven into the house by the flood. You can judge by the 'little' I have told you about quarantine here. In fact, it is not quarantine as understood in Europe at all.

WANDERER.

BRITISH HOSPITAL.

(Communicated.)

The Committee being aware that the sale of the Bonds in which the Dick and Hunt Legacies and the Bazaar Fund were invested and the reinvestment of the money by the trustees has given rise to some expressions of opinion which appear to them to indicate a misconception either of what actually has been done, or else of the duties and powers of the trustees, consider it expedient to call the attention of the subscribers to the fact that in none of the above funds were Bonds entrusted to the trustees, but in each case 'cash' to be invested by them at their discretion. It is unreasonable to suppose that investments made in this manner cannot under any circumstances be altered by the trustees. And the wording of the resolution passed at the General Meeting of 15th April, 1869;—namely: "that with a view to improve "the income of the Hospital, and ob- "tain the best possible return "compatible with proper security "for the Dick legacy of $100,000, it be "left to the discretion of the members, "for the time being, to invest this mo- "in whatever securities they think "proper," clearly showing that it was not then the wish of the subscribers to prevent the trustees from changing the mode of investment at their discretion.

Regarding the powers and liabilities of trustees, the following extracts from Chilly's "Exposition of the Law of England" may be of interest to those who are taking a different view of the matter from that taken by the Committee, viz.:—

"They shall execute their office, as nearly as they can, in accordance with the intention of the party appointing them.

"When trustees fail in their duty they are chargeable in equity for breach of trust. They are, however, generally presumed to be doing their duty until the contrary be shown.

"They are bound to manage the trust property with provident care and diligence for the benefit of the cestuique trusts, and not for their own; and they will only be liable personally for losses that occur from their wilful default.

"They are bound to exercise all that care and discretion over the property that a provident owner would himself observe."

"They are also bound to invest money in real or government, and not on personal securities, or else they will be held liable for any loss that may occur. But if the founder of the trust had left property on personal security, without any direction for a change of it, the trustees are justified in having it so invested."

It is important that the duties and liabilities of the Committee as Trustees, and their duties and liabilities as representatives of the subscribers be carefully distinguished.

Their opinion of their position as regards trusteeship is recorded in the following paragraph in the Report, namely, "The Trustees above mentioned are of opinion that, as regards the obligations of their Trusteeship, there is nothing in the above sales and reinvestment to which any reasonable objection can be made."

But as regards their position simply as members of Committee it rests with the subscribers and not with them to express an opinion on the transactions recorded in the Report, which is already in the hands of the subscribers.

BUENOS AIRES' FOOTBALL CLUB.

The adjourned meeting for the purpose of forming a Football Club was held last Friday at No. 39 Temple.

Considerable interest appeared to be taken in the proceedings by those present, among whom we noticed Messrs. Thos. Hogg, A. Tyndale, Turner, Wm. Plowes, J. H. Kidd, Walkinshaw, Morgan, and J. Miller.

A code of rules was adopted, based upon those of the former Football Club, and a committee of management was elected, consisting of Messrs. Morgan, Turner, A. Tyndale and Walkinshaw with Mr. Thos. Hogg as President.

A large number of members were enrolled, and if we may judge from the enthusiasm that prevailed, the present Football Club promises to be fully as successful as its predecessor.

We are glad to see this fine old England game revived in this country, and are given to understand that a match will be arranged at no very distant period.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

We feel it our duty to ask the Marker to again score game for the STANDARD in re' the Illimani's mails. 'Sleep, gentle Sleep,' sealed up our colleagues' eyes and steeped their senses in forgetfulness of the latest Rio papers. It is not the first time such has happened, nor will it be the last.

There was scarcely a scrap of news from any quarter of the heavens or earth to begin the day with yesterday. The only thing going up to lunch time was a report that Mr. Garcia, the Bolsa porter, is about to resign his important post, as the terribly late hours now in vogue at that establishment are telling on his health, and he will shut up for eternity it the Exchange is not henceforward shut up at a reasonable hour. Mr. Garcia has served the Bolsa well and truly for the last 20 years, and deserves better treatment in his ripe years.

The event of to-morrow will be the inauguration of the Rosario Railway. It will be really an event to be marked with a red pencil. The greasy town of Almagro is alive with preparation, and everyone who intends being present has written out his speech, which will save time and help the press reporters. The blow-out "hará epoca" in inauguration annals.

"On disait" yesterday that three more candidates for the Presidency of the Republic will but in an appearance next week. This means that three new newspapers will be required to dilate on their public and private lives, their antecedents, personal appearance, &c. We believe they are all fine, tall, strapping fellows, which is always something in their favour.

That venerable craft, the Patagones, on the line between this port and Patagonia, and which was reported lost on the South Coast last week, is still to the good. She once had a most unenviable reputation for unseaworthiness and propensity to seek the bottom; but since her spirited owner, Colonel Murga, spent 20,000 of the hardest patacons in repairing her, we understand she "walks the waters like a thing of life," and is as safe as any craft afloat. She has arrived safely at her destination, the rumour of her shipwreck being a 'canard.'

We had a glance at a copy of Mr. Darwin's last work yesterday. It is conclusive, and must eventually force on an enlightened public the painful conviction that all their rapscallion ancestors who "came over with the Conqueror" (as everyone's did) sprang originally from some original Apes, whose names have unfortunately been lost in the mists of antiquity, but it is believed they was christened Jumbo and Jeve.

The Court was incommoded yesterday by the process of weighing the thousands of firkins of Goodenough horse-shoes which were immolated at auction on Thursday last. Horses and their shoes, land, furniture and Abyssinian jewellery, all take their turn at No. 118 San Martin, to be redeemed, regenerated and disenthralled by a crack of the ivory hammer, now as necessary an agent of civilization as the steam engine, or the 'can-can'.

Recent statistics show that in London 300 horses die weekly, and that 700,000 cats in the metropolis are largely fed from their carcases.

The closing of this port to vessels from the Banda Oriental did not create half as much outcry as the quarantine now imposed up the rivers on the coasting vessels from the same quarter. There is wailing and gnashing of teeth amongt coasting traders; but it can't be helped: "need must when Yellow Jack drives;" he is almost as bad as another John who shall be nameless.

Our friend Tidmeau, we hear, has taken out a patent for a new cocktail. It is sure to be good, but in his place we should stick in preference to Tea, Corned-beef and cop ous Advertiziug. We may be wrong, however, as to the two first, but the latter 'va sans dire.' Making a fortune is a mere question of advertizing enough, and we only wish we had something to advertize in addition to the museum, the cellar and the 70,000 ounces. We'd put Courteney, the Circus man, to the blush. By the way the Circus was opening its doors last night as we were going to press. The squeeze to get in was of the most pressing description; crowds blocked up Calles Tucuman and Cerrito, and Plaza Parque, and hundreds of thousands had to go away home to bed within even hearing the band playing inside. Such a 'debut' has not been witnessed since the first appearance of the immortal De Boots.

Our Packet Edition for the mail steamer Tiber will appear to-morrow at noon. Small steamers and whale-boats will be in immense demand on Tuesday, as there is a prodigious crowd of residents starting for Vienna in this vessel.

The Cordaba Legislature will open shortly. A local paper reminds the honourable members that the taxes will have to be screwed up to meet the requirements of the new-Loan lately contracted. This is sweet news, but it was generally expected. Dr. Patiño, Vice Governor, is better. Two new electioneering papers are about to be started in the interest of the two As, one for Avellaneda, the other for Alsina.

The news from various points of the South American Continent is too lively to be pleasant. It is a chapter of row and ruction from beginning to end, bar respectable Chile. Sr. Ballivian, the favourite for the Bolivian Presidency, has written from Europe to say that he would not touch it with a forty-feet pole, as he wishes to stop in this sublunary sphere as long as he can, and dislikes making his will. In Peru the chances are 1000 to one in favour of a monstrous burst up before a month is about; and a smart insurance on President Pardo's existence might prove a capital, spec. Meat is going up still and the general discontent is terrible. As for the Central American States, now that the weather has cooled, they are preparing to tread on each other's coat-tails and go in for a royal scrimmage during the winter. Mexico is again upside down, and the American Minister, Mr. Nelson, has left the country.

Dr. Luis Varela is mentioned, amongst others, as likely to be the new Juez de Crimen.

The La Plata Club will give its May ball on the 24th, prox, and the Progreso follow on the 25th. The public fetes are likely to be mild this year in consequence of the impecuniosity afflicting the Municipal cash box. Money may be tight on 'Change, but is in a genuine Gordian just put now at the Municipality.

The latest thing in Chile is a new railway saloon carriage for the President of the Republic, bought in England for £2400, a most unrepublican price for a republican's railway carriage. Lord Cochrane is still on a visit to Mr. McKenna, in Santiago.

The body of the young Italian who threw himself into the river at Rosario last week was recovered a few days ago at Las Piedras. His friends followed his remains to the grave in a most outlandish manner, with a band playing lively airs and 30 carriages, all empty. The good people of Rosario were mightily astonished at this unexpected display. The performance at the Olympic Theatre for the relief of Montevideo was attended by the 'elite' of Rosario Society, Mr. Coll has resigned his seat on the Municipal Board, and his retirement will be a great loss. The town of Rosario continues as gay as a lark. Theatres and tea-and-toast 'tertulias' attract crowds of fashionables.

The most laughable satire on the Loan-mongering of the Age that we have yet seen is a decree by our distinguished countryman King O'Reilly, by the Grace of God and the will of the Aborigines, King of Araucania and New France (Patagonia). His Majesty proposes to raise 30,000,000 of francs in Bonds of 50 francs, with 10 per cent. coupons, each subscriber getting 5,000 metres of land, and a gold medal; they may sell the lands and the Bonds, but woe betide whoever sells or pawns his medal. Poor King Anthony O'Reilly is evidently as mad as the maddest hatter that ever made a 'tile', still there are a great many borrowers in the world just as mad as he, and they'll find it out in time.

The English papers announce the consecration, on the 19th ult., by Archbishop Manning, of the Most Rev. Dr. Roger Vaughan, as Archbishop of Nazianzum, I. P. I., and Coadjutor Archbishop of Sydney. "Cum jure successione." The new prelate is brother to the Rev. Kenelm Vaughan now in this city.

The Committee of the British Hospital have favoured us with a communication which appears in another column.

A shock of earthquake was felt in Rome last month. It is stated that it made the inhabitants feel as if they were going to be sea-sick, a delightful sensation when one is used to it.

The new code of studies drawn up for the University by Dr. Florentin Gonzalez proposes to suppress one of the examinations in each year, and do away with the 5 month's vacation hitherto in vogue. Five months vacation! What a plague and injury to the laborious student!

Telegrams from San Juan are not encouraging. The election ordered by the Intervention Commissioners has resulted in favour of the revolutionists, and another will have to be held.

Mr. Henry Howard goes down to Ensenada by the first train this morning to enquire into the recent abuses in the feeding department of the Lazzarretto. The provecdor complains that the third and fourth class passengers rarely pay him, and that he has more than once got jolly well "stuck" by second class passengers; he makes no complaint of the first class folk, except that, as a rule, they are monstrously heavy feeders.

Major Donovan has resigned the command of the island of Martin Garcia.

The Mutual Gas Company will fall to on the streets next week. This young company has got a spring in its heel which is quite refreshing to see, and no one doubts of its ultimate and brilliant success.

A London paper announces that the Queen has ordered from Macdonald's Granite works, Aberdeen, a sarcophagus and pedestal of Peterhead granite, in which the remains of the late Emperor Napoleon may be placed until their ultimate destination is determined.—

The latest thing from Mercedes is four children at a birth. The 'mater's name is Acuña. On the last interesting occasion of the kind this redoubtable matron did five sons. Her husband is slightly anxious as to the future. "Parbleu!" well he may! But perhaps the whole affair is filling stuff, as the dearth of news is something awful, and "three at a birth" is too old a story to agitate the public sufficiently. Five ought to do it.

The Illustrated London News of the 22d ult. has the scene from the 'Happy Land' in which Mr. Gladstone, Mr. Ayrton and the Chancellor of the Exchequer dance the 'break down', or 'can-can' which brought the ire of the Lord Chamberlain on the play. Mr. Ayrton trips it in the middle, flourishing his umbrella, while 'the people's William' whirls his right leg and Bob his left, the Fairies, 'can-caning' it round them. There are several other splendid cuts, and a portrait of Prince Albert Victor of Wales. Daws, of Calle Piedad, is the man.

Things a Married Woman cannot Help Thinking.—That she was very pretty at sixteen. That she had, or would have had, a great many good offers. That all her lady friends are five years older than they say they are. That she has a very fine mind. That if her husband had acted on her advice, he would be a rich man to-day. That people think too much of the looks of that Miss—, who would not be called handsome if she didn't make herself up. That her mother-in-law is a very trying woman. That her sister-in-law takes airs, and ought to be put down. That her girls are prettier than Mrs. A.'s girls. That she would like to know where her husband spends his evenings when he stays out. That her eldest son takes after him. That he is going to throw himself away on Miss. Scraggs. That Miss Scraggs set her cap for him, and did all the courting. That her servant girls are the worst ever known. That she has taste in dress. That she has a good temper. That she pities old maids.

The Scotch are remarkably pithy poets, witness our correspondent 'Heather,' and we are indebted to a Glasgow paper for the following:—

GIVE THE DEVIL HIS DUE.

Said Jonathan Jones to his angry wife,
After staggering home at night,
Overcome by a bout of beer and gin,
And one eye bunged up in a fight—
"Don't be so hard on your darling, love—
I'm a little to blame, 'tis true;
But give the devil his due, my love—
(Hic) Give the devil his due."

His helpmeet gazed on his boozy form,
As vainly he essayed
To toe a crack and stand erect,
And thus she answer made—
"To give the devil his due, my love,
Is perfect right, 'tis true;
But what would become of you, my love,
If the devil had his due?"

The last number of that truly excellent publication the Anales de Agricultura accidentally escaped our notice up to the present, but we now beg to call the attention of our camp friends to it. It opens with a cut and description of 'Bielina', a pure Dutch milch cow, belonging to Herr von Donat, Silesia, which are worth the attention of stock breeders. The article on Vine Culture in Mendoza is also most interesting, as is one on the Cultivation of Land, and a cut of a new sowing machine. Mr. Ollendorff is keeping his paper fully up to the mark, and all our friends in the camp would do well to subscribe to it, as they will find therein many valuable hints.

"I usually get paid for telling what I know!" pompously exclaimed a conceited lawyer to a friend who casually asked him his opinion on a legal point. Handing him a fifty-cent stamp, the friend said, "That's all right; just tell me all you know, and then give me my change."

HINTS TO TEACHERS.

In this nineteenth century, knowledge, like gold, is most valuable when coined and current. Therefore it is that our wisest men are most earnest in their efforts to popularize science, and distribute among the masses of the people seed facts and seed thoughts that shall germinate and grow till universal intelligence shall be the rule and ignorance the exception. The wonderful revelations of the spectroscope, the microscope, the telescope, are set forth by illustration so ample, by language so plain, that any person of good common sense can understand them, and, according to his capacity, appreciate them. Our writers of school-books vie with each other in bringing these facts within the apprehension of children and youth, thus stimulating the love of knowledge and feeding the young mind with the pure milk of science.

In cities and large towns where teachers can enter lecture-rooms, libraries, and reading-rooms, they are constantly receiving accessions of enthusiasm in their profession, of knowledge its details, and of earnestness, by reason of their cooperation with other teachers. In remote country places, however matters are very different. The teacher stands almost, if not entirely alone. He is at once the inspirer of thought and the guide to its proper development. His pupils may come, some of them at least, from families innocent of newspapers, unversed in any literature but the almanac, entirely "vacant of our glorious gains." The parents may object to having their children taught to spell "taters" with a p, and insist upon it that the world does n't turn round, else the water would pour out of the top of the well 12 hours out of the 24. Let do intelligent reader smile; there are neighborhoods where precisely these criticisms are made. And so the teacher has the work of a creator to do, noble work it is, unsurpassed by any other, and the problem is how to do it.

The first thing to be accomplished here, as every-where, is to set the scholars themselves to work. To most minds there is no greater stimulus to labor than the knowledge that one has wrought well in the past, and the consciousness of ability to do yet more in the future. It is well, now and then, to step aside from the routine of ordinary recitation, and throwing the lesson in a new form let the pupils work out the answers themselves. For instance, in the geography of the United States, after going over the map questions, let the pupils study the rivers of each State, those that flow into the Atlantic Ocean, into the Gulf, into the Pacific. Take the Missippi and give its tributaries, then the tributaries of each of these. Group the States according to their products—the cotton, the wheat, the rice States. We know a little fellow of 11 who has mastered the river system of the United States; can name every river and its tributaries, tell its rise, course, and where it empties. By methods such as these a boy can get a portable and permanent knowledge of the geography of his country, and this is what he wants. We do not go out lite with an atlas under one arm; and an arithmetic under the other, with a dictionary in one pocket and a grammar in another; and it we did, the questions that arise, and the problems given us to solve, would receive little help from these sources.

A newspaper exercise, once a week, is an admirable study for a country school. Let the teacher read the items of foreign news and the children tell all they know of the different countries, where situated, their manners, dress, government, peculiarities. Let her read the Scientific Notes and awaken curiosity and interest in the wonderful developments of this nineteenth century. There never was a school routine so good as is the getting out of it now and then. In many neighborhoods the ruts in which the children travel get so narrow and so deep that they can see nothing of the broad world but the little beat along which they plod.

Excursions into side paths of information, under the guidance of a live teacher, will give freshness of ardor and brightness of mind to the young votaries of knowledge, and it will keep the teacher, too, out of the treadmill of hum-drum school duty, and vastly augment her influence and her success.

DEATH OF MRS. BUCKLEY MATHEW.

Never have we undertaken a more painful duty than to record the Death of Mrs. Buckley-Mathew, who succumbed, upon the evening of the 5th of April, to the lengthened and severe suffering which for more than twelve months she had been enduring with the Christian resignation inspiring her.

Society in Rio de Janeiro has lost its brightest ornament in one who had won its admiration, and acquired the deepand affectionate esteem of all who had the opportunity of knowing Mrs. Buckley Mathew's kindness of heart, sincere and unaffected manners and the charitableness so notable in this amiable lady, than whom, also, none were more endowed with gifts of nature and education.

The universal feeling of sorrow called forth by her untimely decease is the only source of consolation left to her bereaved husband and fondly devoted daughter; to whom we also tender our heartfelt and respectful sympathies whilst expressing the sentiments of sympathetic grief testified here by all, of every nationality.

Throughout the fatal illness of this amiable lady the sympathies of their Imperial Majesties and Highnesses were continuously demonstrated by their warm enquiries in regard to her condition.

The funeral, which took place at Petropolis upon the 8th, was, though intended to be strictly private, attended by a representative of H. R. Highness the Comte d'Eu and by the whole Diplomatic Corps. but the British Residents of Rio were unable to pay this last tribute of respect to the esteemed dead, there being no conveyance available at the time. But the numerous latters expressive of their deep sorrow and of their sympathy with the grief of the bereaved husband testify to the warm and profound affection which Mrs. Buckley Mathew had inspired.—Anglo Brazilian Times.

ON CHANGE.

April 26th 1873.

Ounces	400
Sovereigns	122½
Patacons	25
National Bonds	80¼

The great news of the day was the payment of sovereigns by the Provincial Bank. It was not generally known in the market until about 1 o'clock that the Bank was paying in sovereigns, but as soon as the brokers heard of it there was a good demand for English gold, chiefly by private banks. The Maua Bank drew £100,000 st. in sovereigns for shipment to Montevideo. The German bank drew out £50,000. What the R. Plate and Commercial banks drew out was not known on 'Change, but it was supposed about £10,000 each, and the Carabassa, Argentine and Italian banks smaller amounts. The payment of sovereigns had an instantaneous effect on exchange, the rate ruled at 48¼ in the morning. at which rate bills were passed with a week's credit. At noon the rate was 48½, at 3 o'clock the rate was nominal but some brokers gave 48¾ drawers, 49 takers. Respecting this English gold question, many parties censure the bank for having held it up so long, and thereby causing a run for the coin when first paid out. The impression is that £250,000 stg. for Montevideo, and £500,000 stg. for this market. will be the sum total required by both markets; but there is no certainty about this, and it much depends upon the rate of exchange. All the private banks are now putting their reserves into English gold; and it seems that the great bulk of the French gold paid out by the bank is held by the private banks who now retain the sovereigns, and pay out to their customers French gold. The operation has proved a very good one for all those private banks who do a large exchange business.

In the stock market there was much of a pause, not a single bond sold the day throughout. In the liquidation—

In our quotation of exchange to-day for Mendoza mails 48¾ is given by mistake for bills, the rate was 48⅝.

A late telegram from Havre has come out by Illimani announcing a sharp fall in tallow, price down to 97.

The Montevidean telegram gave:—

Some important saladero contracts at 96-94-97½; exchange 51¼-51⅝. 13 cases yesterday, 10 to-day. Cutter sails to-night, fever declining, cases mild, business stand still. Extraordinary Debt 63, Home 65. Montevidean 38. Progreso 56.

The barque Prince Conde was announced aground on the bank in the roads.

The Niña sold at the mole head for 4,000 pats. her full value. Messrs. Corti buyers.

The sale of a cargo of hides in Gualeguay was effected to-day, 9,000 at 64½.

On Monday Mr. von Alman C. E., with a staff starts to survey the new Railway from Chivilcoy to Junin, Risso's line, good business this,

The invitations to the Rosario Railway number we heard on 'Change this afternoon some 2000, Applications for shares are daily made to Mr. Billinghurst, but list closed here:—

It will doubtless interest many of our commercial readers to know that the question so long pending between Messrs John Shaw and Casares and Co. on the right of the latter to charge double lighterage on goods which the firm unloaded for the former soon after the close of the yellow fever has been brought to a conclusion. The supreme court rescinded the sentence of the inferior courts, and decided in favour of Mr. Shaw. As the question was not of money but of right, the superior court has given a precedent of which doubtless business men will avail themselves henceforth. We shall not capitulate the arguments of either party, but the learning and eloquence brought to bear on the question by Dr. Goyena, who was Mr. Shaw's counsel in the latter instance speaks very highly for the Buenos Ayres Former. Consignees of goods take note of this important decision.

This being Saturday there was increased money movement at the banks, and the payments on the Bolsa were also over those of last Saturday. The produce accounts for the week show that some large sales in the deposits have been effected; and, on the other hand, the money paid for exchange proves that the remittances have been heavy. In fact, if we except one or two exchange brokers, few are aware of the large remittances made since the beginning of the year. We heard to-day of a house that does not as yet much figure in the market having already remitted this year one hundred thousand pounds sterling; we advert to this matter to show the enormous sales by our importers. In fact, it has been so long the custom here to judge of the country's progress by the Custom House receipts that it is difficult to rid the native mercantile mind of this delusion. The exchange market, however brings everything to its real true level, and so long as we consume so immensely more than we produce we cannot hope to see exchange at what we consider proper rates. In a late issue we remarked that exchange kept up last year simply from extraneous causes, namely, the starting of three foreign banks in this city, as the capitals had to be drawn for, or the gold imported; furthermore, the Nat. Government was then receiving the balance of the Public Works Loan or drawing against it, and was not compelled to enter the market as taker of exchange as in this year—but all that is changed now, merchants, Governments, banks, railways and tramways have to remit. On a close calculation the amount that has to be remitted by English companies and by the Government to meet the service of foreign loans in £200,000 per month. This, of course, has nothing whatever to do with regular trade remittances, which owing to the fall in the value of wool, and tremendous development of the import trade, is now a very important item. Exchange keeps low, and spite of everything must keep low, although as it is now that the Provincial Bank has begun to pay out sovereigns, we may look for a temporary recovery, but it can be only temporary, unless the industries of the country can in some manner be increased.

Buyers of National Bank stock for early dated scrip offered to-day to purchase at two discount, but as yet no sales have been effected. Parties well acquainted with the London market state that none of the shares could be placed there, unless there was a directory in London, which is, of course, out of the question. The opening of this bank without the introduction of any foreign capital is surrounded with great difficulties, which, however, can be much lessened by the directors making no remission whatever for the first year.

The present late hours of attendance at the Bolsa look at last about to be remedied; some members are about to bring the question before the syndicate and the first move is to close the Bolsa iron gates, and shut up the establishment every evening at 4 o'clock p. m.; this move will meet the approval of 9/10ths of the members.

The French packet Mendoza cleared to-day, she took but few passengers and, we heard, no gold.

The sales of lands in the suburbs still continue almost as brisk as ever, and a very large sale of eastern property in the district of Matanzas is spoken of.

The great Bollini property on the Calle Santa Fe road is now being measured and will shortly be delivered to the purchaser Mr. Leonidas Garcia; this property is one of the largest that has been sold in the suburbs and represents 16 millions currency. 66 squares of land, Mr. Bollini the seller waits to sign the papers and then starts for Europe. Sixteen millions currency in Milan is a very handsome fortune for an Italian emigrant to the Plate to fall back on.

There is news from London respecting the second Paraguayan loan of a favorable character. It seems that Sr. Benitez and Messrs. Robinson and Fleming have at last come to an arrangement. Further advices are looked for by next mail, but at the leaving of the Tiber the affair was in a fair way of settlement.

Amongst the passengers arrived out per Tiber and now in quarantine is Mr. Emiliano Lopez, the eldest living child of the late President of Paraguay, Solano Lopez. Mr. Lopez has been educated in England, where he has resided since the year 1861.

Another Argentine Preserved Beef Company is about to be started; the locality, we believe, is the Tigre. Notwithstanding the number of these establishments announced our export of preserved beef is yet a mere cypher. Possibly Mr. Forbes will be the first practical exporter in this line and ship more than samples.

The following highly important intelligence has been received from Rio per last mail, respecting modifications made in the European cable concession—

"Since our last issue energetic strides have been made on behalf of the telegraphic communication between Brazil and Europe, through the ably directed and indefatigable exertions of Mr. Bright, the Agent of the Telegraph Construction and Maintenance Company, of London, to whom the Coast Cable concession of Messrs. Bright, Webb and Jones was recently transferred with the consent of the Imperial Government.

"At present Major Wood and Mr. Burt are actively engaged with His Excellency the Minister of Agriculture upon some modifications requisite to the complete success of the enterprise in all respects. The coast cable concession just transferred savored somewhat of its origin as a mere speculative enterprise, but the present holders of it are desirous of having the undertaking carried out in such a manner as to give it the greatest practical efficacy. For this purpose, and to ensure certain, quick and unembarrassed communications from the metropolis of the Empire, it is of the greatest importance that the cable should proceed with the fewest breaks possible to the junction, at Pernambuco, with the transatlantic cable, for experience has established that the great risk of breaks and the chief cause of delays occur at the landings of the cables. Wherefore, it is proposed to touch only at Bahia, between Rio and Pernambuco, leaving the communications of the minor ports to be maintained by the land lines joining them with the cable stations.

"The prudence of this course is obvious, and it will receive the approval of every practical man. Indubitably also the Government recognizes the great advantage and importance of avoiding stoppages and delays in the communications between Europe and the metropolis of the Empire. In fact it would be a grand mistake to have those communications delayed and endangered at Maceio, Aracuju and Victoria, to give these small ports, commercial dependencies of Pernambuco, Bahia and Rio, the nearly inappreciable boon to them of direct telegraphy with Europe. All that is wanted or advantageous in the present circumstances of the Empire is the communication, the most rapid and secure possible between Rio, Rio Grande do Sul, Bahia and Pernambuco, in the south with Europe, the River Plate and each other, and this is the object of the proposed modifications of the original concession to assure.

"At this time the great object of Brazil is to obtain direct and sure communication between the metropolis and Europe, but the company, which is now about to lay out some three millions sterling, will ere long continue the cable from Pernambuco to the north as soon as circumstances warrant the further outlay. But at present the Great Western Telegraph Company has 2300 miles of cable ready, sufficient to reach from Rio Grande do Sul to Pernambuco, and we hope that no time will be lost in making it available for the purpose.

The following is the latest Rio market report, and may possibly interest our commercial readers:—

"Exchange—Remained steady till the 1st inst at 26⅝ Bank, when Banks lowered their rates to 26½, and private bills were negotiated with facility at 26¾ and 26⅞. On the 5th the Bank of Brazil drew a limited amount at 26½, but, finding the other Banks had retired, declined to draw above 26½; private paper in the meantime was done at 25¾. To-day the rate is decidedly firmer, and this decline we consider but temporary as our business in coffee once resumed, high rates may be anticipated. Amount drawn:

"On London, £550,000.

"On France and Belgium, frs. 1,400,000.

"Apolicies—Heavy business at 1045$ and 1048.

"Coals—There are no cargoes on sale, and all arrivals were on special order. We have no alteration to make in our last quotations.

"Flour—The market is steady without any alteration in prices. Stock, 34,000 barrels.

"Koroseno—Large arrivals, but all for special order. Prices are weak, and 11$500 to 11 800 is got with difficulty.

"Lumber—Buyers freely offer 120 reis per foot for inch pine. Pitch pine deals are not worth more than 40$ per dozen.

"Salt—Of the three cargoes which arrived only one remains unsold, from Lisbon. Rates are firmly maintained at 660 to 680 reis for coarse qualities.

"Tea—The market is flat, except for black, which is in demand at 1$500 to 1$800.

"Freights are drooping, owing to the very numerous arrivals of vessels, and to the absence of business, so that the following quotations can scarcely be sustained.

Channel, 27/5 to 32/6.

"Mediterranean, 27/6 to 32/6

"United States, north, 20/ to 25/.

"Do South, nominal.

"The charter of the Industry was thrown up. The Alerte at 35/6d. and the Padihn and Antilope at 35/ have been chartered, destination as above, all with 50/0 primage, and the rates per ton."

N.B.—To-day another quarrel about the old sore. A well known speculator from Olivera station sent in a bag of hair, and time, we hear, it was the station-master's fault, having omiting to mention it in the Guia. Of course, as is usualy the case, the Administration claimed it, and would not deliver it up till an amount of telegraphic despatches were sent to and from Olivera stating where the error lay. We would advise the public in general and our country men in particular to be very cautious in taking out their bill of lading.

SAVINGS BANK

BANK MAUA AND C.O.

101--Calle Cangallo--103

BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current is now so generally felt and appreciated in the great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo, and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depository for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need arises, or old age, instead of spending them in immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the example of their firm in Montevideo, has same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from 9 a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM

Bristol's sarsaparilla

Is prepared in the most scientific manner, by thoroughly educated chemists and Druggists, who have had many years' experience. It is not a simple extract from one article, but is compounded of extracts from a number of Roots, Herbs Barks, and Leaves, all of which are possessed of some particular virtue or power in curing the diseases that have their source in the blood and humors; these different vegetable extracts are combined in such a way as to retain, in so full strength, the special curative virtue possessed by each. The root of the Sarsaparilla plants found in Honduras, is that which we use in this preparation; it is the kind which all medical men esteem most. About fifty per cent. of Bristol's Sarsaparilla consists of the concentrated extract, the remainder, as above stated being composed of extracts from other powerful, cleansing and healing vegetable substances. It does not contain any thing that is dangerous or injurious to health, and in this, as in nearly every other respect, is entirely different from all other preparations sold under the name of Sarsaparilla.

By having our own agents at the places where the various roots, drugs, herbs and plants, composing our medicines, are produced, we are enabled to exercise that constant care in selection which insures uniformity of excellence, and we spare no money and no effort to procure the best—and only the best—of every article entering into their composition; and it is with the most abiding confidence we say, to be sick of all nations and all countries, that, in Bristol's Sarsaparilla you have a remedy more reliable than any before offered to you, and which will no disappoint you in the cure of.

Salt Rheum, Tetter, Scald Head,
Syphilis, or Veneral Disease,
Nervous and General Debility,
Old Sores, Ulcers, Tumors,
Abscesses, Boils, Eruptions
Scrofula or King's Evil,
Female Derangements,
White Swellings,
Fever and Ague,
Chills and Fever,
& Dumb Ague;

As a means of building up the consititution that has been broken down by the excessive use of Mercury, Iron, or other Minerals, our Sarsaparilla will be found most excellent, and can be administered with safety to the weakest patients. As a purifier of the blood and humors, in the Spring and early Summer, it will the found unfailing. It can be taken freely at seasons, rainy or dry. For some of the above diseases, the use of the Sarsaparilly must be continued a considerable time, especially for those that are hereditary or constitutional in their nature—such as Scrofula: but a faithful compliance with the directions will always relieve and mitigate, and in a great majority of cases will effect a complete cure. It will also be found, in all of the above diseases, that a cure will be greatly hasted by using our Bristol's Sugar-coated Pills, in moderate does, in connection with the Sarsaparilla; they carry off large quantities of morbific or diseased matter set free in the system by the Sarsaparilla, and in this way facilitate the return to rmal functional operations. —cj— 46
